Sarah Uzenoff, MA

The North Carolina Psychoanalytic Foundation is pleased to announce that Sarah R. Uzenoff, MA was recently awarded the third annual David Raft Fellowship to help defray the costs of her tuition as she pursues studies at the Psychoanalytic Education Center of the Carolinas \(PECC\).

Ms. Uzenoff received her Masters in Clinical Psychology from UNC-Chapel Hill in 2007 and is currently a doctoral candidate in that program. Since 2008 Ms. Uzenoff has participated in a psychodynamic therapy practicum through the UNC Department of Psychology where she conducts once- and twice-weekly outpatient psychodynamic individual therapy for adults under the supervision of Paul Brinich, PhD. This experience has also included didactic seminars and case presentations to clinic supervisors and trainees.

In addition to her training in individual and couples therapy in the Department of Psychology, Ms. Uzenoff has also completed clinical practica through the Department of Psychiatry at UNC Hospitals via the Schizophrenia Treatment and Evaluation Program, UNC Eating Disorders Program, and the Outreach and Support Intervention Services (OASIS) clinic for early psychosis. She has previously been a clinical trainee on the adult rehabilitation unit at John Umstead State Hospital in Butner, NC where she conducted individual and group therapy as well as cognitive and personality assessment.

Ms. Uzenoff's professional affiliations include the International Early Psychosis Association, the North Carolina Psychoanalytic Foundation, the Association for Behavioral and Cognitive Therapies and the American Psychological Association. She is enthusiastic about forging a connection with the psychoanalytic community and its network of professionals as she nears completion of her doctoral studies in clinical psychology.

Ms. Uzenoff's future training and career aspirations include working with individuals with severe psychopathology, including individuals from diverse and traditionally underserved populations. She is interested in integrative models of psychotherapy and anticipates that PECC coursework will both enrich her ongoing clinical work and provide a foundation in psychoanalytic theory that will serve as a base for future studies. Ms. Uzenoff lives in Chapel Hill and enjoys travelling, spending time outdoors and playing tennis.

Katherine Johnson, MD

The North Carolina Psychoanalytic Society is pleased to announce that Katherine Johnson, MD was awarded the 2008 annual David Raft Fellowship to help defray the costs of her tuition as she pursues studies at the Psychoanalytic Education Center of the Carolinas (PECC).

Dr. Johnson is a psychiatry resident at UNC Hospitals, where she has been working in both inpatient and outpatient settings. In 2008 she was awarded the Kaiser Permanente Excellence in Teaching Award of the Whitehead Medical Society at UNC Medical School.

Prior to her psychiatry residency Dr. Johnson was a resident in Obstetrics and Gynecology at Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center in New Hampshire, and while there, she received the 2005 Students' Excellence in Teaching award.

Dr. Johnson has a special interest in treatment of patients who have a history of trauma. Her experience includes work with a rape crisis response team and leading eating disorders support groups for patients and their friends and families. She wants to pursue psychoanalytically oriented studies in order to expand her understanding of psychoanalytic concepts as they apply to psychotherapy with this population.

Susan Bokor Nadas, MSW

The NC Psychoanalytic Society is pleased to announce that Susan Bokor Nadas, MSW, was awarded the first (2007) David Raft Fellowship to help defray the costs of her tuition as she studies at the Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy Study Center of North Carolina (PPSC).

Ms. Bokor Nadas is a clinical social worker in private practice in Raleigh. She received her MSW from New York University and is a Board Certified Diplomate in clinical social work. She has worked in a variety of settings including schools and adoption services, in addition to providing psychotherapy.

Her education has included pursuing several short psychoanalytic courses, participation in the Introductory Curriculum of the PPSC, and pursuing individual supervision of her psychotherapy work. Ms. Nadas' current participation in the Advanced Curriculum of the PPSC extends that commitment.
